

Become a Community Engagement Volunteer!

Posted: 1 August 2024

Watergum is all about connecting with community, and we run a variety of educational and engagement events. Our Engagement Volunteers are crucial support for our team and keen to come along to events, help set up and pack down and talk to attendees about our cause.

This role is very much a people-orientated position –confidence is needed to be able to interact with the public effectively and positively.

What you need to know:

- Time commitment: needed on an ad hoc basis when events are being held, may include weekends or evenings.
- Requirements: must have own transport to get to events, moderate fitness to set up and pack down stalls and equipment.
- Skills you will acquire: community engagement, POS support

If this sounds like you, please fill in the form below or email info@watergum.org
